Class sessions simulated
Catlin parents see how teaching done

Classroom work in reading and social studies was seen by members of the Catlin Elementary PTA Wednesday.
Parents gathered in the school gymnasium for a brief meeting conducted by Mr. and Mrs. Bill Gordon, presidents of the organization, and a simulation of regular classes followed in the classrooms.
Classes with first, third and fifth graders were held. Adults observed their children being taught by the students' usual teachers.

Mrs. Phyllis Boe, Catlin principal, explained that the demonstration helps parents see what their youngsters are learning and how they are being taught.
Student projects for social studies classes were on display.
